

EditLive! for IBM Quickr

Make online collaboration as easy as sharing documents.

EditLive! for IBM Quickr is an integration of the same award-winning, rich text editor that is now licensed by IBM for Lotus Web Content Management.

To ensure business users start collaborating online with the wikis and blogs in Quickr requires an online authoring experience that is as easy as editing traditional documents. EditLive! addresses this need with a Word-like authoring experience. It also offers powerful capabilities for image editing, track changes, table editing and accessibility checking.

EditLive! integrations for the WebSphere Portal and the Lotus Domino versions of Quickr are available now. The integration for the Quickr Domino platform was co-developed by the PSC Group, a leading Lotus consulting firm and 2009 Lotus Award winner.

“EditLive! is a great fit with Lotus Quickr because it makes it even easier to collaborate on rich web content.”
